FOREWORD

The 1961 Senior Class entered school the year "The Junction" was first begun. During those twelve years they have watched the school grow and have participated in other additions to the school program. Looking back over their brief stay at Gretna High School, they would advise other students to use their time and talents wisely--for by so doing they enrich not only themselves, but society.

OUR CHARACTER IS ENRICHED,

LEADERS

Alan Midkiff, Patricia Shelton and others of this section of Eighth Grade History concentrate on their test.

Faye Yeatts, Sally Pillow, and Sandra Howell compare their report cards.

Mrs. Odelle Waltington's Second Grade responds to questions on their workbook.

AND OUR KNOWLEDGE GROWS.

WE ARE

Skill tests are given students interested in employment after graduation. Mervin Cothran and Walter Shelton work rapidly.

Good sportsmanship is stressed in physical education. Martha Haynes and Judy Wells enjoy a game of horseshoes.

PREPARED

Frank Smith, Nell Shelton, Joan Compton and Ronald McKinney, officers of the Student Council, take an active part in the campaign in school.

Eric Dalton, Neil Brumfield, Wayne Pickeral and Donald McKinney learn through experimenting in Chemistry.

Kitty Midkiff is putting the mortarboard on for Peggy Rowland. It is fun now, but at graduation there will be tinges of sadness.

TO MEET LIFE'S CHALLENGES

WITH RICHES OF INTRINSIC VALUE.

The Band and Glee Club participate in the County Spring Music Festival at Averett College.

Oscar Matherly spends his spare time with artwork for his Fifth Grade history class.

Mittie Lou Edmunds and Mary Ann Towler pause to admire the choir-boys arrangement for Christmas.

DEDICATION

Since you and our class entered First Grade together, we have shared many experiences. Your guidance and encouragement during our first year has followed us through school.

You have truly been a mother, as well as a teacher, to all your students during the past twelve years.

In appreciation of your love and understanding, your son and our class president, the Senior Class, and The Junction Staff gratefully dedicate this the 1961 The Junction to you, Mrs. Thelma Mattox.

Enrichment Through Education

. . . through classroom discussions . . .
explanations . . . oral and written assignments . . . utilizing available educational facilities.

Nell Shelton, Dolly Dawson, Patsy Yeatts and Faye Yeatts are members of a panel which is discussing "Teenage Problems", while Anne Moon acts as moderator. Wayne Pickeral, along with the rest of the senior English class, is interested in the discussion.

Anne Moon and Nell Shelton look over the books available from the Pittsylvania County Public Library.

Finding a good book and giving a report on it is no problem for Melba Martin.

SELF-EXPRESSION TAUGHT IN ENGLISH

Self-expression, both oral and written, are an important part of our English courses. Students conduct panel discussions, give oral book reports and extemporaneous talks. Much thought and research has been spent during the first semester on themes.

A tape recorder has been added to the school this year to teach diction. To teach an appreciation of fine arts has been one objective of the classes. Beethoven's Fifth Symphony was used to compare expressions in music and literature.

Reading recommended books and studying literature were emphasized during the second semester. Books are available both from the school library and the Pittsylvania County Public Library.

Virgil Hedrick learns self-expression by playing charades.

Brenda Bowling and Kathy Harrison help set up the record player to study moods and their expression through music.

Mary Alice Shelhorse and Ricky Rowland learn to improve their enunciation by use of the tape recorder.

Stanley Simpson watches the changing composition of boiling salt.

NEW EQUIPMENT MAKES SCIENCE INTERESTING

In our modern age science has become quite important. Science classes are taught in each grade to meet the needs of the students. Courses offered are General Science (eighth and ninth grade level), Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

All science classes were greatly improved with the addition of laboratory equipment purchased through The National Defense Educational Act. The biology equipment was placed in new cabinets built in the classroom, due to the crowded conditions in the lab. To further relieve the crowded situation, new cabinets were made in the lab. Classes rotate in the use of this equipment. Plans to improve this situation were included in the recently passed bond issue.

A newly formed BZ (biology) Club attests to the interest being shown in the biology classes.

Johnny Pickeral, Anne Moon and Jerry Bosiger help to clean up the laboratory for the new equipment.

Claude Vince Swanson and Jerry Midkiff study the solar system.

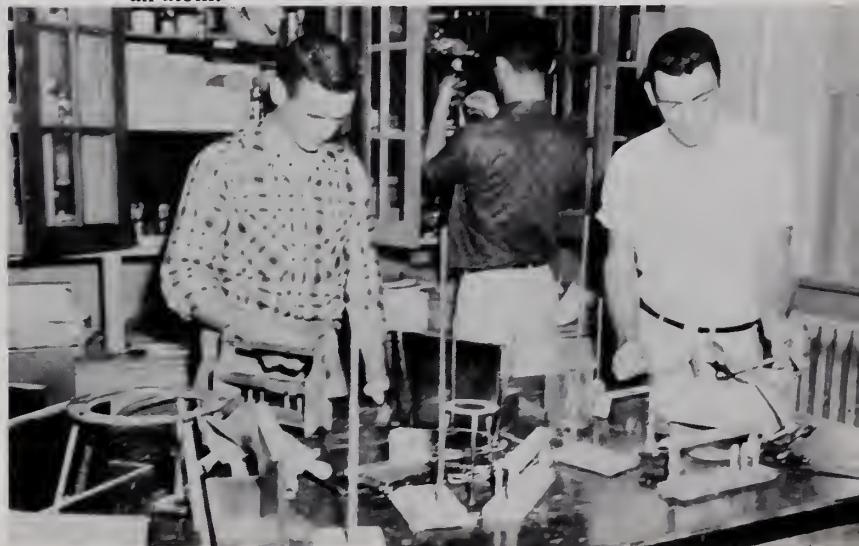

Ronald Compton proudly adds the hornet's nest which he found to the biology collection.

In Eighth Grade Science class, W. C. Scruggs, Ronnie Johnson, Kenneth Price, Richard Fratzke, Steve Mann and Earl Myers are interested in the model of an atom.

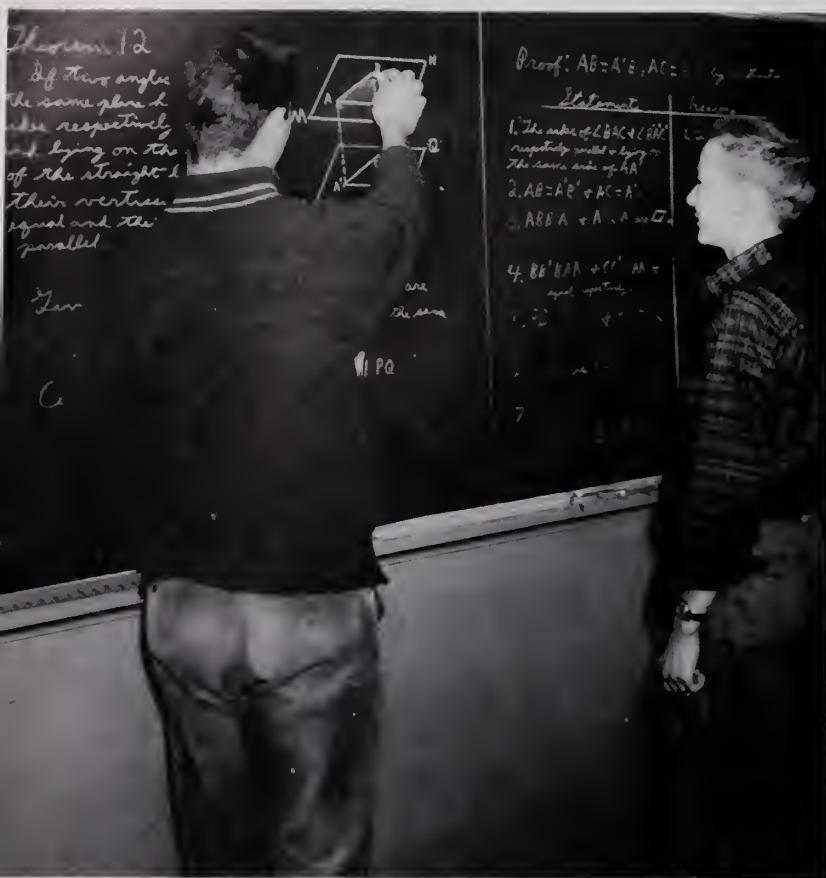

Billy Brumfield, Sammy Pickeral, and Mack Johnson help to clean up the lab and arrange the new equipment.

Studying organisms, through the use of the microscope, are Geraldine Rowland, E. W. Myers, Katherine Keen, Michael Pearce and Steve Emmett.

MATHEMATICS CLASSES MEET COLLEGE DEMANDS

Sammy Pickeral and Donald Davis solve a Solid Geometry problem--they are taking all of the advanced math offered.

Students preparing for college find that courses in Mathematics are offered at G.H.S. to meet any entrance requirement. Advanced Arithmetic is required of all Eighth Grade students. Those who average C or plan to attend college continue their course with Algebra. Arithmetic in both the ninth and tenth is required for those who do not take Algebra.

Algebra II, Geometry, Solid Geometry and Trigonometry are offered for those who can meet the requirements and elect to take them. Algebra III, a course comparable to college algebra, is offered as an extra. This course was first offered as an experiment. It has proven popular and profitable to those students who have gone on to college. Students having completed five years of mathematics have rated high on standard and college entrance tests.

A course in commercial math is available to students pursuing a business career and we have placed it on the commercial pages.

Solid Geometry is the sixth course in math for Barney Shelhorse, who finds it his easiest subject.

Mike Dellis and Johnny Pickeral hold a conference on a geometry problem. Carole Jo Moore, Clarice Davidson, Larry Mayhew and Stanley Simpson seem to be figuring it out successfully.

Students taking Algebra III plan to attend college. Nell Shelton, Faye Yeatts, Neil Brumfield, Effie Dalton and Mary Alice Shelhorse are so engrossed they do not realize a picture is being taken.

Linda Kepley is trying to find her error in Algebra I - it's not funny, but having a picture taken of it is embarrassing to Linda.

Algebra II classes are kept quite busy. Donnie Graham chews his pencil while he thinks about the problem.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS ENTERTAIN

Sally Pillow models an outfit, including hat, for P. T. A. that she has made in class. She later models the same outfit at the Danville Fair.

The Home Economics classes offer a varied program suitable for both the career girl or the girl planning marriage after graduation.

As a result of their study on child care, the girls offered their services as baby-sitters during P.T.A. meetings.

On Tuesday evening, December 20, the girls entertained their parents and the faculty at a Christmas tea. On exhibit were projects made by the girls in classes. These consisted of skirts, etched trays, copper tooled planters, attractively decorated Christmas packages, and Christmas arrangements.

Members of the Home Economics classes put into practice what is learned in the classroom by their activities in the F. H. A.

Maxine Rowland, Emma Craddock and Judy Wells baby-sit for parents attending P. T. A.

"Dink"
Arlene Cundiff proudly displays her Christmas package which won a blue ribbon.

Mary Ann Towler and Louise Bennett compare their gaily wrapped Christmas packages. Each won a blue ribbon in its class.

Mrs. Laura McMinnis, Mrs. Helen Compton and Mrs. Mary Doss, F.H.A. mothers, assist in F.H.A. activities.

Judy Wells, Peggy Rowland, Nancy Hodges, Nancy Mattox, Helen Warden, Linda Bailess and Peggy Bowler relax after modeling their dresses in class.

The Home Economics girls displayed, at their tea, skirts made in class. Gloria Yeatts and Kitty Aylor, are pointing out theirs for us.

History proves interesting for W. C. Scruggs.

Studying world news in "Every Week" are David Adams, Carolyn Perkins, and Rosemary Farris.

SOCIAL STUDIES CLASSES KEEP ABREAST OF TIMES

Social studies classes proved more interesting this year than ever. The election, along with world conditions, offered an opportunity for study and discussion. The senior government groups studied the local bond issue program. They participated in presenting the school needs to their parents.

Movies, panel discussions, and individual reports added variety to the classes. To keep up to date with current events, "Every Week" and "Senior Scholastic" were subscribed to by the students. A new "World Atlas" and "School and Library Atlas of the World", along with a stand, were added to the library this year.

Gail Witcher and Sharon Durham participate in a debate concerning the national election.

Richard Inge, Bill Mann and Frank Smith move the projector, after having shown a movie to the government classes.

Margarette Yeatts and Patsy Moore, government students, arrange the bulletin board.

Dewey Rowland participates in the tractor driving contest.

VO-AG CLASSES LEARN FROM PROJECTS

The vocational agriculture classes study and put into practice improvements in general farming. Each boy has a project or projects on which he keeps records.

Work in the shop teaches the students proper care of farm machinery and general repair around the farm.

A young farmers class is conducted at nights to help them become more efficient farmers.

Mr. Culbertson instructs his vocational agricultural classes on the machinery in the shop. Checking their lists are Clyde Simpson, Tommy Merricks, Donnie Rowland, Wayne Short, Lowell Yeatts, Morris Powell, Dennis Craddock, Frankie Howell, Frank Shelton and Dwight Oakes.

Charles Kepley prepares to use the power saw, while Donald Johnson and Glenn Bennett look on with interest.

It is easy for Linda Dalton to write the vocabulary lesson.

Betty Tate and Kitty Aylor use the record player for pronunciation of words in French.

"LA JEUNESSE" READ BY STUDENTS

French is offered to broaden the knowledge and interest of students. They increase their vocabulary, learn the customs of the people, and acquire a better understanding of French speaking people.

The classes enjoy translations from the French newspaper, "La Jeunesse" (Youth), to which they subscribe.

The student planning to enter college meets his foreign language requirement by taking two years of French.

Singing the French national anthem, "La Marsiellaise", are Earlene Dalton, Mary Ann Towler, Mittie Lou Edmunds, Glenn Holt, Johnny Bosiger and Dwight Love.

The music class practices for the Christmas Festival.

MUSICAL GROUPS PARTICIPATE IN PROGRAMS

Accompanying the music class is Dixie Knautz.

Concentrating on their music are Jimmy Dalton, James Lovelace, Carrie Hampton Edwards, Richard Fratze, Allan Midkiff, Frank Moore, Clyde Simpson.

A class in music was added to the curriculum in September. Numerous programs highlighted the year for both the band and vocal group.

Trips to Charlottesville and Chatham to participate in programs added interest, as well as being educational, for the classes.

Band or music is taken as a fifth subject, with the student having average grades in their other classes.

To replace students who graduate, a class in band is held daily for elementary students who desire it.

The band performs for the Parent-Teachers Association at a call meeting on the bond issue.

Nancy Hodges and Janice Dalton are enjoying a game of tennis during physical education period.

Dennis Craddock prepares to shoot a free shot, while Mr. Rutledge Moon stands by, ready to continue refereeing the game.

Mary Farris and Evelyn Robertson meet at the net after a game of tennis.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION SEEKS TO IMPROVE HEALTH HABITS

Physical education, both boys and girls, is restricted to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Grades, due to the lack of facilities to take care of more students. Even then, the boys and girls have to rotate in using the gymnasium. Health and First Aid are taught during the winter months. In the fall and spring, when the weather permits, outdoor games are played.

Cooperation, coordination and good health habits are stressed in all phases of physical education.

Tommy Patterson and Michael Pearce prepare to jump a tie ball. Frank Smith referees the game.

This section of Typing II, consisting of Seniors, is completely filled when all members are present.

COMMERCIAL STUDENTS RECEIVE PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Each year a large percentage of our graduates, having taken the commercial classes, find employment without difficulty.

Two years of typing, bookkeeping, shorthand and general business are offered. Students obtain practical experience by doing work in the school office, assisting in keeping cafeteria records, typing the yearbook and school news for the local papers, typing and mimeographing the school paper, and typing for teachers when requested to do so.

Mr. Owen Wyatt assists Woodson Toney, Roger Reynolds and Lionel Reynolds with General Business.

Linda Adams dictates to Karen Gibson who is writing in shorthand on the board.

Enrichment Through Leadership

. . . through capable administrative leaders to formulate school policies . . . a faculty, giving both classroom and personal help and guidance . . . an atmosphere conducive to educational growth.

MEMBERS OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICIALS SEEK TO IMPROVE SCHOOLS

MR. CHARLES E. HAGBERG
Division Superintendent Of Pittsylvania County Schools

The School Board has worked long and hard for improvement in the county's school system. On October 4, in a special election, the School Board was successful in having approved by the people a seven and one-half million dollar bond issue for school buildings. The building program will take approximately ten years to be completed. Areas of the county with the most urgent needs will receive the first benefits of the building project.

Gretna High School will see changes before the program is completed. At the present time classes are held in the eight or more sub-standard rooms, with the gymnasium being alternated between boys and girls.

The county was fortunate in having Mr. Charles E. Hagberg appointed Division Superintendent to complete the term of Mr. H. R. Elmore, who resigned to become Assistant State Superintendent of Schools.

Both the School Board and Mr. Hagberg are continuing to work for better educational advantages for Pittsylvania County's school children.

FACULTY GIVES INDIVIDUAL ASSISTANCE

Our faculty consists of 45 varied personalities whose interests contribute to the entire teaching program at G.H.S.

WE THANK THEM . . .

for listening to our problems, for explaining again when we weren't listening the first time, for supplying the spark when we can't get going, for explaining to Dad that we aren't really stupid, and for all the kindnesses we frequently take for granted.

WE BLAME THEM . . .

for sending us for a tardy slip when we're late, for their narrow minded attitude towards bubble gum, for assigning all that homework, for listening for an explanation when we've used up our last available excuse, for giving tests when we don't expect them, and especially for trying to civilize us when we're happy the way we are.

FACULTY MAKES PLANS FOR YEARS WORK

Faculty meetings can prove quite interesting. At the beginning of school the teachers meet for three days in their individual schools. Plans are made for the beginning of a new term. Home-room assignments and schedules are given out.

New members of the faculty are introduced. This year Miss Shirley Day, History; Mrs. Christine Myers, English; Mr. Lawson Owen Wyatt, Commercial; and Mrs. Jane M. Reynolds, Fourth Grade are with us for the first time. We are happy to have them and hope they will enjoy their work.

Mrs. Ramsey, Miss Day and other faculty members enjoy the "pause that refreshes" during a "break" at the first faculty meeting.

STUDENTS EXPRESS APPRECIATION TO FACULTY

The twenty-one elementary teachers and their pupils are an integral part of Gretna High School. Here the foundation is laid, whereby the individual becomes an important influence in school life and later in society.

The teachers use every means available to create and stimulate interest in learning. Our pictures have tried to show various aspects of their work.

CAFETERIA PERSONNEL CAPABLE WORKERS

The cafeteria women find their hands full with the preparation, serving and cleaning up for 600 to 650 lunches a day. They have their own schedule whereby they rotate regular duties.

The lunches more than meet the requirements of the Federal government both in quantity and quality. The hot dog menu is the overall favorite, with spaghetti possibly being first choice in high school. Cherry or apple pie rates tops in the desserts.

We are fortunate to have such capable and willing workers in our cafeteria.

MRS. NORA BAYLISS

Taking the cafeteria trash to the dump is a daily chore for Robert Eastham.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT EASTHAM, CUSTODIANS

CUSTODIANS AND BUS DRIVERS HOLD RESPONSIBLE POSITIONS

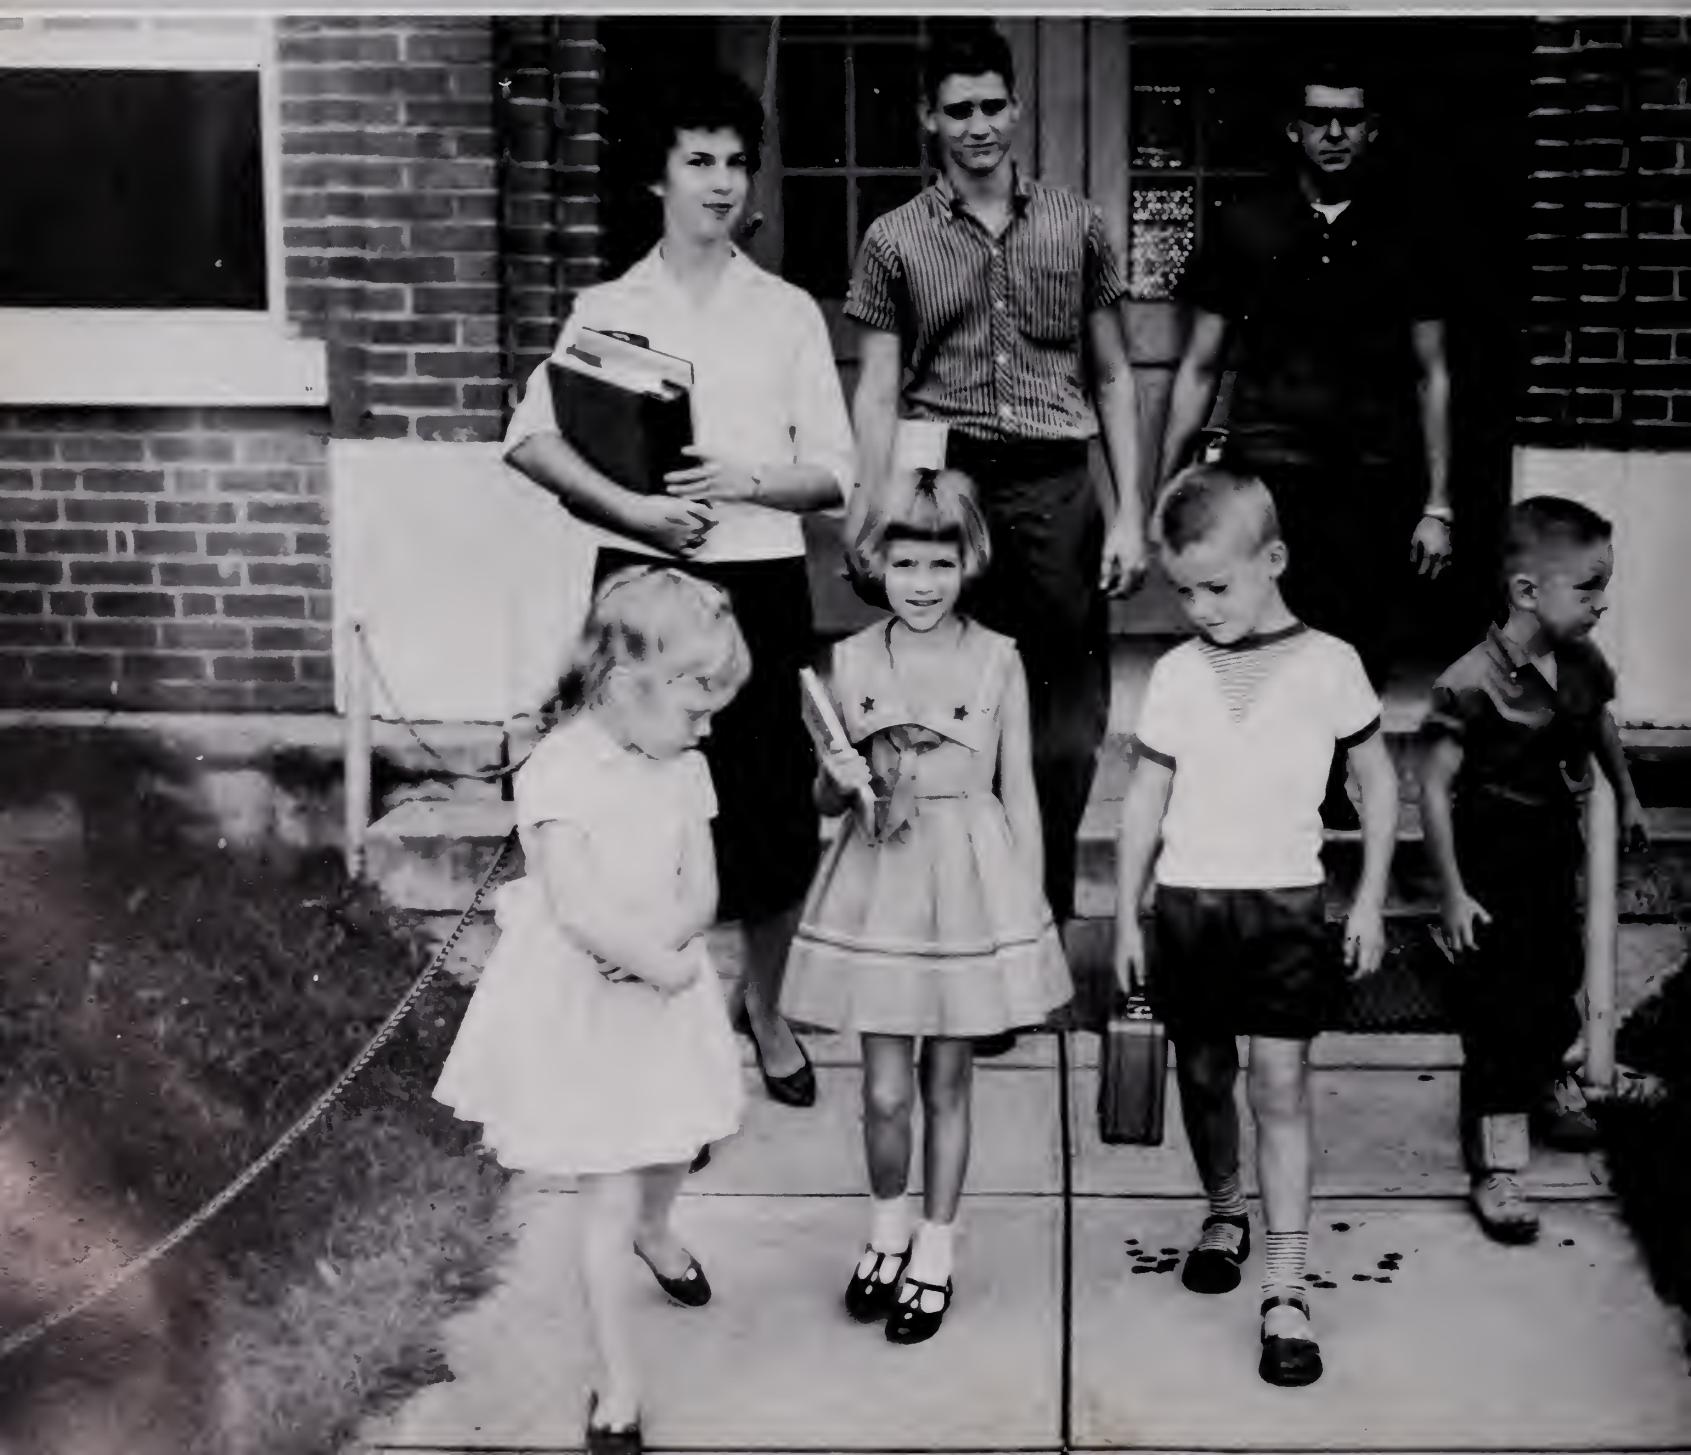

Mr. and Mrs. Eastham are kept quite busy keeping the school plant in orderly and running condition. Their day is completely filled with duties to maintain healthy and comfortable surroundings for the students. We should be more appreciative of their efforts and cooperate when possible.

Eight buses, with four of them making two runs, transport the students to Gretna High School. Some buses leave as early as 7:00 a.m., while others get home as late as 4:50 p.m. The greatest distance traveled by a student is about 20 miles. It is hoped, with new facilities, to some day be able to have all buses run one load, and thus cut the time that students will be away from home.

The drivers are aware of the responsible positions they hold and strive to be cautious at all times.

SIXTY-ONE SENIORS ARE IN CLASS OF '61

Sixty-one Seniors meet on September 12 to organize, with the determination that all will graduate in '61. Class officers are of first importance. Realizing that the president of the Senior Class will have a leading part in graduation, we select Charles Mattox. We are divided into two sections, with Student Council Representatives and Treasurers in each section, but we plan to work together as a united Senior Class. Ahead of us is Homecoming, Junior-Senior Banquet, Senior Play, May Day and Graduation.

Enrichment Through Contribution

. . . through activities conscientiously chosen . . . working cooperatively . . .
serving school and community with pride and distinction.

Linda McMinnis, Anne Moon (editor), and Effie Dalton are planning a "new look" for the 1961 THE JUNCTION.

Carol Jo Moore and Donald Davis (business manager), are organizing their ads and are determined to have sufficient money to meet this larger budget.

Selling the annuals is no problem for Stanley Simpson, Jewel Roark (sales manager), and Peggy Pippin.

THE JUNCTION WINS S.I.P.A. TROPHY

The entire student body was excited when THE JUNCTION won the trophy at the S.I.P.A. convention in Lexington in April 1960. We, the 1961 staff, are accepting the challenge to keep up their good work. We are planning a larger yearbook to eliminate crowding.

THE JUNCTION was published for the first time the year this Senior Class entered First Grade. We have watched it grow and improve. New ideas and methods are being used this year for greater efficiency, and we hope a better yearbook. For the first time the staff was so scheduled as to meet during sixth period, their study hall. Class was held for the first month on procedure. A new filing cabinet, two work tables, and a desk were added to the room. An index system was set up. We are enjoying our assignments and hope to produce a winner.

Anne Moon and Patsy Yeatts arrange the bulletin board to display the S.I.P.A. trophy.

Joan Bolling, Dolly Dawson and Gail Cocke find typing the annual keeps them busy.

ALTAVISTA GROUP: Jewel Roark, Patsy Moore, Danny Farmer, Joan Compton, C. A. Doss, Jr.

GRETNA GROUP: Ronald McKinney, Kitty Aylor, Gail Cocke, Linda McMinnis, Judy Davis.

ROCKY MOUNT GROUP: Earlene Dalton, Iva Worsham, Wayne Eanes, Carol Jo Moore, Barney Shelhorse, Patsy Yeatts.

STAFF USES SUMMER TO GET ADS.

The staff decided to make one more important change, that of getting ads during the summer. On August 20, six groups of us set out to get advertisements to help balance our budget. Here you see us starting off in high spirits. Only one school day is necessary to complete this assignment.

CHATHAM GROUP: Charles Mattox, Dixie Knautz, Betty Tate.

DANVILLE GROUP: Mittie Lou Edmunds, Mike Dellis, Dolly Dawson, Donald Davis, Ellen Smith.

Neil Brumfield, Bonnie Crosby, Melba Martin and Mary Alice Shelhorse look over the new filing cabinet.

Mrs. Tyler, Barbara Kepley, Carole Sue Shelton, Katherine Moorefield, and Gaynelle Taylor distribute new annuals.

Earlene Dalton, Amy Hines, Gail Cocke, Patsy Yeatts, Vicki Doss, and Gayle Phillips plan the first edition of the Parrot.

THE PARROT STRESSES NEWS

The first issue of the Parrot came out on October 21. Gone are the cover pages, Campus Cat and other gossip items. It is primarily concerned with news.

The staff investigated the possibility of having the Parrot printed, but decided the cost was prohibitive this year. It will be mimeographed as in the past.

Gail Cocke, Gayle Phillips, Amy Hines, Earlene Dalton, and Mrs. Lois Pendergrass attended the News Clinic sponsored by the Richmond News Leader, held at the University of Richmond on October 29. While there, they attended a luncheon and football game.

Jerry Wyatt and Libby Pickeral discuss coming events in sports.

Ronald McKinney is a member of the committee to plan the year's work.

Joan Bolling types the school news to be sent to the county paper.

STUDENT COUNCIL WELCOMES NEW STUDENTS

The Student Council Association, consisting of representatives from all the classes and the president of each club, offers leadership in school activities.

Booklets were made by S.C.A. members and presented to all new students at the beginning of school, on the activities and people at Gretna High School. Each new student was individually welcomed.

A mock election was held preceding the general election with the Kennedy-Johnson ticket winning.

Each month the association chooses a club-of-the-month to honor clubs for outstanding achievement.

School news is sent weekly to the Star-Tribune, the county paper.

Sally Pillow, chairman of the Christmas program, prepares to play "Angels We Have Heard on High" over the intercom.

S.C.A. HOLDS ELECTION

Officers for the Student Council Association are elected each spring by the students. Two parties are formed and a spirited campaign is conducted. In voting the students vote for the person, not the party. Never has a complete slate of officers from one party been elected. All nominees automatically become members of the S.C.A. the following year.

Officers for 1960-61 are (seated) Nell Shelton, president; Ronald McKinney, vice-president; Joan Compton, secretary; Joan Bolling, reporter; (standing) Donald Davis, sergeant-at-arms; Vicki Doss, treasurer.

At Christmas the girls display their handicraft work and entertain their parents and guests at a tea.

The annual F.H.A.-F.F.A. Banquet is the highlight of the clubs work.

Officers for the new year are installed at a special assembly meeting with a ritualistic ceremony.

The Gretna Band and Glee Club under the direction of L. Hampton Benton enjoy performing. They entertained the Parent-Teachers Association at the September and December meetings. They participated in the County Christmas and Spring Music Festivals.

The Band led the parade for homecoming and played during all home football games. On Saturday, October 19, they attended the Virginia-Maryland football game and took part in the half-time entertainment.

The Glee Club reorganized this year, after having been disbanded for a year. Dixie Knautz is pianist for the group which meets each day.

LIBRARY CLUB TRAINS HELPERS

Members of the Library Club learn how to use the library advantageously. They assist in keeping records of books as they are used, and in replacing them on the shelves when returned.

A different committee arranges the bulletin board each month. Here they draw attention to new books or to materials appropriate to the time displayed.

Richard Inge, Bonnie Crosby, Jean Shelton, or Stanley Simpson operate the projector when movies are shown in classes.

Homeroom librarians are selected from members of the club. They collect overdue books and fines in their homeroom.

The club meets bi-monthly. At their Christmas meeting they had a party and saw a movie, "The Littlest Angel".

Kitty Midkiff, a senior, admires the bulletin board as she replaces a new book cover.

Clyde Simpson checks out books while the Library Science class is being taught.

CAMERA CLUB SEES EXHIBIT

An interest in photography is the main requirement for membership in the Camera Club. Members take pictures of school events, some of which are used in the annual.

This year the club plans to make a book of the best pictures taken during the year.

HOMECOMING IS A DAY FULL OF ACTIVITY

Three o'clock Friday, October 14, 1960! It's not just another Friday with school out---it's Homecoming! A parade--the Band playing, floats passing in review, everyone in suspense--which floats will receive prizes? The Queen's Float at last approaches--who will be crowned?--it's Patsy!

The Cheerleaders and Band are displaying their talents; the crowd is enjoying every minute of the game. The score, Gretna 13, Nelson County 6, makes it a perfect Homecoming.

Finally, the big dance! The Queen and her court, the cheerleaders, and the football team, being the centers of attraction, bring to a climax an eventful day.

MISS PATSY ANN YEATTS
HOMECOMING QUEEN

Before the opening minutes of the Homecoming game, Miss Patsy Ann Yeatts is crowned Homecoming Queen of '60. Patsy is happy to share the honors with Miss Anne Howard Moon, Maid-of-Honor. As usual we see these two together.

MISS ANNE HOWARD MOON
MAID-OF-HONOR

QUEEN'S FLOAT IS BEAUTIFUL

The Homecoming Parade ends with the beauty of the Queen's Float which is sponsored by the Girls' Monogram Club under the leadership of Miss Billie Jean Wheeler. Six attractive girls, representing their respective classes, are surrounded by a sea of light blue, trimmed with dark blue, with a canopy over their head. They will receive more honors at the football game and dance.

Riding the Queen's Float are Sharon Durham, Freshman and Martha Mayhew, Eighth Grade; Louise Bennett, Sophomore and Helen Warden, Junior; Patsy Yeatts and Anne Moon, Seniors.

Sharon Durham, Princess; Anne Moon, Maid-of-Honor; Patsy Yeatts, Queen; Helen Warden, Louise Bennett and Martha Mayhew, Princesses, are honored at the Homecoming dance.

Enjoying the bonfire are Carol Ann Rowles, Ellen Smith, and Dolly Dawson.

Michael Scruggs, Cindy Inge, Linda Dalton, Douglas Dalton, Frankie Moore, Gail Witcher, Martha Berger, and Jimmy Dalton liven up the bonfire.

Dixie Knautz, Buddy Tuck, Nancy Howell, Rebecca Dalton, Libby Pickeral, Libby Worley, Gail Phillips, Ronald McKinney, Freddie Ingram, and Dennis Craddock are singing with the band.

SCHOOL SPIRIT IS EXHIBITED

On the eve of the Nelson County game, school spirited students gather with the cheerleaders and band around a huge bonfire to cheer the G.H.S. football team to another victory. Under the capable leadership of Jimmy Dalton, the band plays such lively numbers as "On Wisconsin", "Notre Dame Victory March", and "Across the Field".

After the rally the committees from the clubs will go back to work, in various garages throughout town, to complete their floats for tomorrow's parade.

Sandra Baldwin and Donnie Graham are putting the final touches on the gym decorations. This is a typical scene at Gretna High--the girls do the work, while the boys look on.

THE PARADE ORIGINATES AT SCHOOL

The band and cheerleaders head the Homecoming parade down Main Street, having left the school at 3:15. All traffic is halted on U. S. 40 from the Crossroads to R & M Texaco. The streets are lined with people and WMNA broadcasts the passing floats.

The judges decide The Gretna Chapter of Future Homemaker's float is the first place winner. In red and white, their club colors, the scene depicts home-cooking with a touch of school spirit.

CHEERLEADERS

GRETNNA CHAPTER FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA FIRST PLACE WINNERS

HI-Y CLUBS WIN PRIZES

The Hi-Y Club with their Y-Train and "The Way to Freedom" win the second and third prizes, respectively.

The Y-Train consisting of a small tractor, covered to resemble the engine, and wagons, graduated in size carrying banners, emphasizes "Clean speech, living, sportsmanship, and scholarship". Mark Adams is the engineer.

Karen Gibson and Kenneth Shelhorse are typical seniors, who will soon have the privilege of exercising their vote. The red, white and blue colors, with the United States and Virginia flags flying, point out that "The Way to Freedom" is by use of the ballot box.

Thinking of tonight's football game, THE STUDENTS COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION get into the spirit with "Lets Wash 'Em Out Tonight." Ellen Smith does the dirty work, while Freddie Ingram enjoys his rest. This float receives honorable mention.

THE GLEE CLUB receives honorable mention for its float which displays the function of the club. Jerry Wyatt directs Gail Witcher, Marie Becker, Martha Haynes, Nancy Hodges, Joan Colbert, Clarice Davidson, Janice Dalton, Nelson Bennett, Johnny Pickeral and Mike Dellis as they sing.

"Safety is Everybody's Business" is the theme selected by THE GRETNNA CHAPTER OF FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA for their float. Glenn Bennett, Donald Johnson and Wayne Short display signs stressing safety hints.

THE BETA CLUB chose a Greek theme for its homecoming float in keeping with its name which is the second letter in the Greek alphabet. The lower case Greek letters used around the base of the float correspond to the first letter in the Beta standards: achievement, character, leadership and service.

CLUB FLOATS ARE COLORFUL

Sandra Craddock and Tommy Mayhew are ready to blast off! THE EIGHTH GRADE SCIENCE CLUBS are quite modern and educational. We see that, "Our Future is Depending on Our Young Scientists."

"Let's Swing to victory", says THE PEP CLUB. Rebecca Dalton, Wayne Pickeral, Nancy Howell and Woodson Toney, enjoy the swing ride down town. These colors, yellow and brown, with autumn leaves, are typical of the season.

THE VARSITY CLUB joins in the gay festivities with an entry urging, "Go Hawks Go." This spirited float, decorated in the school's colors of gold and blue, features a football field. Libby Worley and Phyliss Franklin are typical cheerleaders, ready to cheer for the Hawks.

Gretna High School's future football team has started at an early age to prepare for homecoming. Members of the RED AND BLUE TEAMS, Jerry Midkiff, Dannie Davis, Steve Mann, Johnny Johnson, James Shelton, Bill Mustain, Mike Linkous and Donny Amos are ready for the big game.

Representative of THE LIBRARY CLUB are the open book and lettering on the side of the float, "Students Tackle Your Books." This float is both educational and in keeping with the spirit of the game. Bryant Lampkin is our tackle.

Vickie Doss and Ginger Dudley are putting glitter on the letters and stars, while Katherine Keen watches.

DANCE THEME IS "STAIRWAY TO THE STARS"

In keeping with the theme, "Stairway to the Stars", the Monogram Club, sponsor of Homecoming, decorates the gymnasium in Midnight blue, with a light blue stairway leading to the shining stars.

The cheerleaders are presented corsages of yellow mums, with gold and blue ribbons, in recognition of their support of the football team.

The dance, with music furnished by WMNA, is a fitting end to a perfect day.

Miss Shirley Day and Mr. Owen Wyatt are enjoying the dance.

Clarice Davidson and Libby Worley are covering the stairway.

We see Dolly Dawson and Donnie Graham rock'n rolling.

JUNIORS TREAT SENIORS TO "AN EVENING IN OUTERSPACE."

"An Evening in Outer Spaces" is enjoyed by the Seniors, as they are entertained at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet and dance on May 6 in the school cafeteria.

Flying overhead in a sky of blue between the stars and planets, are sputniks and rockets. Lighted blue candles help to create the right atmosphere.

"Celestial Music" is furnished during the evening meal by "Heavenly Misses" Vicki Doss, Ava Lee Cocke, and Martha Haynes. The Welcome is given by "Little Glimmer" President of the Junior Class, Charles Mattox. Jimmy Dalton, "Big Glimmer" President of the Senior Class, responds.

Humor is added to the evening with the presentation of "Gifts for the Space Travelers" by Stars, Gail Cocke and Jerry Wyatt. Lady Astronaut, Peggy Rowland conducts "Monkey-business in space", a prophecy.

Looking into space, Peggy Rowland predicts the future for the Seniors on the moon.

The address of welcome is given by Charles Mattox.

Dolly Dawson and Jimmy Dalton have different expressions as they watch Gail Cocke and Jerry Wyatt present the gifts.

Martha Haynes, with Mary Ann Saunders at the piano, entertains with appropriate songs.

Wayne Pickeral distributes gifts as Gail Cocke makes the presentation.

Ava Lee Cocke sings the theme song to be used at the dance, "The Future is Yours."

Vicki Doss, at the piano, is entertaining during the banquet.

The smile on Woodson Toney's face tells us he is enjoying delivering the guts to the Seniors.

DECORATING FOR BANQUET IS FUN

The Juniors enjoy working to make the banquet a success. Many days are spent on planning the decorations, entertainment and menu. The day of the banquet is full of activity. Baseballs, volleyballs, and basketballs are all converted into planets. Sputniks and rockets are built. The cafeteria slowly becomes just space.

This is the beginning of a rocket, or is it a sputnik that Patsy Yeatts and Brenda Bowling are building? Anyway Patsy is pleased with her work.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN WITH DANCE

The Juniors use as a theme for the semi-formal dance after the Junior-Senior Banquet, "You Hold the Future". They imply by the two hands holding the world, that the seniors hold not only their future, but the future of the world in their hands.

In keeping with the space decorations for the banquet, the gymnasium is decorated in midnight and ice blue streamers, with silver stars.

Music is furnished by radio station WMNA. During intermission refreshments are served.

Dolly Dawson and Donald Davis, Juniors, congratulate each other on their decorations, while William Burton holds down Donald to keep him from going off into space.

Juniors and Seniors enjoy the dance.

Faye Yeatts and Linda Adams assume the responsibility of preparing refreshments to serve.

RING DANCE FEATURES "HARBOR LIGHTS"

Juniors, feeling that at last they were coming into their own, chose "Harbor Lights" as the theme for their Ring Dance, held March 26 in the gymnasium.

Spotlights, focusing on the large golden ring in the center where each would receive his ring, caught the hues of blue ribbons suspended from the ceiling in tiers of rings. Completing the picture were low picket fences backed by palms on either side of the ring.

Donald Davis and Faye Yeatts, Student Council Representatives; Charles Mattox, president; Nell Shelton, vice-president; Karen Gibson, treasurer; Nancy Adkins, secretary.

Five confirmed bachelors (for the night at least) admiring their rings are Barney Shelhorse, C. A. Doss, Jr., Nelson Bennett, Charles Riddle and Mervin Cothran.

Sammy Pickeral and Dixie Knautz present each other with a ring---just who has whose, would be hard to say.

JUNIORS HAPPY WITH RINGS

Charles Mattox and Nell Shelton, president and vice-president respectively, led the procession in receiving their rings. Each couple paused in the model ring for the presentation, by his date, of his long awaited ring. In some instances both were members of the Junior Class.

The figures nineteen and sixty-one were formed on either side, as the couples came smiling out of the model ring.

Dancing followed the receiving of the rings, with refreshments being served during intermission.

Mrs. Ewell Ramsey, Mrs. Clementine Shelton and Faye Yeatts prepare to serve refreshments. The sponsors have been presented corsages by the class.

SUSPENSE PREVAILS AT MAY DAY DANCE

Suspense prevails at the opening of the May Day Dance. Three seniors, Carolyn Atkinson, Linda Graham, and Judy Mattox, have been chosen by their classmates to be queen and honor attendants. Each of the members of the court, while still in the dressing room, is presented a corsage. The queen receives a bouquet of long stemmed red roses, tied with red satin ribbon. Until this moment no one, except Miss Billie Wheeler, has known which of these girls would be crowned queen.

Trumpeters Woodson Toney and Donald McKinney announce the beginning of the procession. The two attendants from the Eighth Grade lead off, followed by two representatives from each of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes.

Now the audience realizes that Linda Graham is the queen, as Carolyn Atkinson and Judy Mattox precede her as maids-of-honor. The trumpeters play a triumphal march while the queen approaches and mounts to the throne. Linda smiles happily as she is crowned by Mr. Richard McKeel.

Mary Lynn Hiler, flower girl, and Jean Berger, crown bearer lead the way for Linda Graham to the throne.

Vicki Doss and Melba Martin attendants from the Freshman Class.

Linda Graham, Carolyn Atkinson and Judy Mattox try the throne out after helping to decorate.

Mr. Richard McKeel crowns Linda Graham, Queen of May Day.

"APPLE-GREEN" IS THEME OF MAY DAY DANCE

An odd but appropriate theme, "Apple Green," was used in decorating the gymnasium for the May Day Dance. Tall baskets of spring flowers against streamers of various shades of green, added to the festive occasion.

Refreshments were served during the intermission from an attractively arranged table with spring flowers, flanked by candle light. Vicki Doss, Earlene Dalton, Anne Blair, and Judy Davis presided at the table.

Music for the dance was furnished by radio station, WMNA, with John Powell at the controls. The theme song, "Apple Green", was played intermittently during the evening. John announced the members of the queen's court as they entered the procession.

The entire May Day Dance was sponsored by the Pep Club, with Miss Billie Wheeler as advisor.

Patsy Yeatts, Junior attendant, is quite startled as we catch her resting between dances.

Nancy Howell and Woodson Toney are stepping quite lively to the tunes of WMNA. Notice Jimmy Dalton on the sideline with his camera.

Nancy Hodges and Frank Robertson, Karen Gibson and Buddy Tuck, Louise Bennett and Dwight Oakes dance to the strains of "Apple Green".

Lawson Andrews has the privilege of dancing the first dance with Queen Linda Graham.

Vickie Doss, Anne Blair and Judy Davis are busy getting refreshments ready for intermission.

Patsy Bayless receives the Betty Crocker Homemakers award and Doris Dalton is presented the Most Outstanding F.H.A. Member's award.

Patsy Bayliss, Sally Pillow, Linda Adams, Elaine Foutz, Dolly Dawson, and Emily Rowland are awarded their Chapter Degree pin.

Honoring their parents on March 4 at the annual F.H.A.-F.F.A. Banquet, the theme, "Springtime in Virginia" is carried out by the use of yellow candles and spring flowers. They selected, "Let's Keep Virginia Beautiful" as their motto.

Mr. Frank Raymond, Farm Program Director of radio station WDVA, guest speaker, advises the students to, "Evaluate, then Elevate".

Awards earned during the year are presented to the various F.H.A. and F.F.A. members.

SENIORS PRESENT "BULL IN A CHINA SHOP"

Five old maids seeking a husband can create as much havoc as a "Bull in a China Shop." The play, which is a mystery, centers around these five characters who are interested in the eligible detective. Confusion exists after two of these would-be sweethearts are killed by poison. To complicate matters, a female reporter becomes interested in both the case and the detective.

Throughout the play runs the thought and expression, "'Who Dunit?'" When Miss Hildegarde, the landlady and one of the old-maids, is apprehended by detective O' Finn, she is quite proud of having received his attention. As he takes Miss Hildegarde to jail, she presents his sweetheart, the reporter, with a box of candy--exit sweetheart.

Detective O' Finn, not trusting the three old maids left, decides it will be safer for him, if he switches from Homicide to Arson--his first fire was a boarding house for old ladies!

Detective O' Finn (Mack Johnson) and Kramer (Sammy Pickeral) attempt to revive the fainted Miss Birdie (Kitty Midkiff).

The reporter (Dolly Dawson) receives a box of "arsenic" candy from Hildegarde (Peggy Rowland) as Detective O' Finn takes her to jail.

Lucy (Margarette Yeatts) is fingerprinted by Johnson (Dale Short), while Kramer (Sammy Pickeral) looks for clues.

Age,
I sure her
be soon working me to you in Calif.
You're a great girl!
Dad Wish to you
Love you
Dadie you

In preparing this edition of The Junction the staff has had as their constant goal, preparing as complete a record as possible of the school year 1960-61...the year of Enrichment.

We wish for each of you a successful completion of this school year, and remember:

Depend Upon A
Rabbits Foot
For Luck If You
Will...

...But Remember
It Didn't Work
For The Rabbit

Gege, well, we was! I know & I never fall our (also remember things together) we didn't do that we should have done and the things we did see that we to shouldn't have. (he!) we never begin to translate together that.) we've seen so many places together I could never begin to recall all of them. How about the night we all got stood up? The expressions on our faces must have been something on Sunday mornin'.
How about the night we went to the cake plant? you'll always remember the night we went to the cake plant? you'll places, what about the times I got you to go Gege, what about the day you stated it is my annual.
went to Lynchburg? We girls almost froze, but I've got a pretty good idea) Roxie, Carolyn, Raymond, & spont standing on that street corner & the crazy things we said. we seem to be taking fewer & fewer rides, but oh boy! those we did take — the day it was raining.
Gege, did you laugh enough at Gege's house. It's
J. B. & I went that wild night at Gege's house. I thought, "I'd die!"
Don't ever forget that you will be, the best & only the very doubtless you will. I wish you & that lucky guy, whoever he may turn out to be, the best & only the very best that life has to offer. I know, (I hope. He) that our friendship is the kind without as end.
I'm glad. To miss you & all the fun. I'm going still be plenty of time. Love Always,
Dalle

For you luck & a very good friend and may life treat you like the birds,
old friends,

of good
face.

Ann D.
